An LED light bulb left on for an hour extra per day for a year will produce around 1.5kg CO₂e.

Turning off lights when you leave the room saves money and reduces your carbon footprint.

Think Carbon

For more information on how to reduce your impact and save money visit carbonfootprint.com