

Each unit of heat from natural gas produces 184 gCO₂e.

Putting on a jumper produces none.

Turning heating down by 1C saves 12% of your heating emissions and saves you money.

Think Carbon

